MEDIA INFORMATION

CREDENTIALS

Seating at Marking Square Arena's press tables is restricted to accredited working media representatives. Non-working media will be seated in reserved seat areas when seats are available. Only those photographers on assignment will be allowed space on the floor and their photo credentials must be worn prominently at all times.

Requests for individual game credentials should be directed to Director of Media and Public Relations (Indiana Pacers, 920 Circle Tower, Indianapolis, IN 46204), at least six (6) hours prior to the particular game. He and PR secretary Kathy Sutliff may be reached at 317/632-3865 between the working hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. (EST).

PRESS GATE

The Press Gate is located on the third level, southwest entrance of MSA (300 East Market Street). Only media members who hold 1982-83 Indiana Pacers or NBA Press Credentials will be admitted through this entrance.

MEDIA ROOM

Located on the southwest corner of MSA's floor level (3rd floor), the facilities of the Pacers Media Room are open at 5:30 p.m. (EST) to members of the working press only. Telephones and a work area are provided here for post-game work since courtside press tables are removed following each game.

SAM NASSI

Owner, Indiana Pacers

Owner of one of only 23 businesses of its kind in the nation, Sam Nassi is in his fourth season as an owner of a team in the National Basketball Association. A new era began for the Indiana Pacers when Nassi was introduced as the owner of the Indianapolis franchise May 3, 1979.

It was Nassi who decided his club needed a fresh face at the coaching helm and it was Nassi who offered the Pacers' bench post to Jack McKinney, who orchestrated the Los Angeles Lakers' title team in 1980 and as the Pacers' coach in 1981 was voted the NBA Coach-of-the-Year by the league's sportswriters and sportscasters.

Always a sports fan (initially of the Dodgers back in their Brooklyn days), he was never good enough to play varsity at Lincoln High School in Brooklyn or at City College of New York. "I was just good enough for the block softball team and to play quarterback on the sand at Brighton Beach," he said.

In the business world, however, Nassi is known as a superstar. Within 11 years since he formed Sam Nassi Company, he has become famous worldwide as a master salesman. His company achieved its greatest success aiding major corporations to realize profits from previously non-producing assets, and in inventory liquidation sales. In the past few years Nassi's company sales are in excess of $2 billion.

Nassi made his greatest mark when a United States federal judge awarded him the contract over numerous bidders in the W. T. Grant Company's bankruptcy liquidation sale four years ago. This award, based upon achievement (net dollars to the estate), ultimately exceeded $6 million—unquestionably the largest such commission award in the history of the U. S. Courts.

The success of that sale, for both himself and the Grant Company, has made him prominent in his field. This recognition has brought him such recent clients as May Co., Robert Hall, Revlon, Brunswick Sporting Goods, Spalding Sporting Goods, Food Fair, Globe Discount Stores, a division of Walgreen Co., Korvettes, Goldblatt's Department Store, Westclox, Elgin-Waltham, Mattel, Timex, Max Factor, and Fiat of Italy.

Nassi attended CCNY and the University of Southern California where he majored in Merchandising. The 60-year-old New York City native now lives in Beverly Hills, Calif., and his company maintains offices in both cities.

Son of a New York restaurant owner, he moved to California shortly after his discharge from the Air Force where during World War II he flew 38 missions out of Italy as a navigator.

He and his wife of 34 years, Anka, have three children: Albert, Lisa and Kim. Lisa is married to Brent Merritt, an attorney in Beverly Hills. Albert, formerly a practicing attorney in San Francisco, is now a vice president of the company and Kim is a graduate student at California State University-Northridge. The Nassis also are the proud grandparents of four: Garrett Nassi (12), Shayne Merritt (4), Jordan Richard Merritt (1½) and Jessica Lea Nassi (an infant).

JACK McKINNEY

Coach

Jack McKinney is looking for a second successful season as he enters his third campaign at the helm of the Indiana Pacers.

Last year was a disappointing one (35-47) for McKinney and his crew—particularly coming off Indiana's first NBA Playoff appearance and a 44-38 regular season record two years ago.

Only the third coach in the Pacers' 15-year history, the others being Bob Leonard and Larry Staverman, McKinney quickly has become admired and respected in the community—winning the Indianapolis Star's "Man of the Year" award as voted by readers of feature columnist Tom Keating in December, 1981.

Hired by Pacers' owner Sam Nassi on June 2, 1980, McKinney is in his ninth year as a pro coach, having spent two years as an assistant under Larry Costello at Milwaukee (1975-76) and three more seasons under his high school and college coach, Jack Ramsay, at Portland (1977-79) before landing a much coveted head coaching job as Los Angeles in the summer of 1979.

McKinney was off to a 9-4 start with the Lakers before taking a tumble in a near-fatal bicycle accident (Nov. 8, 1979) that eventually cost him his job, after having orchestrated L.A.'s NBA title in 1980.

Following his personal comeback, which included many months of determined rehabilitation and family support, the Pacers landed his services and eight months later found themselves in the playoffs for the first time. McKinney earned the NBA Coach-of-the-Year laurels in 1981.

Prior to the pros, the Chester, Pa., native spent 16 years as a high school and college coach, including eight seasons as mentor of his alma mater ('67-74), St. Joseph's University in Philadelphia. In his final collegiate coaching season, he was named the 1974 "Eastern College Coach of the Year" by his peers.

The 47-year-old (July 13, 1935) resident of Zionsville, Indiana (and Sea Isle City, N.J., in late summer) and his wife of 25 years—the former Claire Cranny—have four children.

One daughter, Sue, a graduate of Wisconsin, resides in Eau Claire, Wisc., while another, Ann, was graduated from Notre Dame. John is a sophomore at Boston College and Dennis is a senior at Brebeuf High School.

GEORGE IRVINE
Assistant Coach

George Irvine is in his third year as assistant coach of the Indiana Pacers under coach Jack McKinney, after having served in the same capacity with the Denver Nuggets.

Irvine's duties with the Pacers include being in charge of pro and college scouting, coaching the squad in games and practces and providing major input on the collegiate draft.

"My ultimate goal is to be a head coach in the pros," said the mustachioed Irvine, "but I'm not in any hurry. That goal is one reason why I moved here from Denver. Jack is a man from whom I'm going to learn. He's going to prepare me to be a head coach one day."

Irvine, 34, was chief aide to Nuggets' coach Donnie Walsh for a season and a half, as well as serving under former Denver coach Larry Brown for a year and a half. He also was a part-time assistant and scout for Brown at Denver in 1976-77.

A 6-6 swing player who played five seasons of guard and forward for the Virginia Squires in the American Basketball Association, Irvine averaged 9.6 points in his 325-game pro career, hitting nearly 52 percent of his field goal attempts and 83 percent of his free throw shots.

A collegiate star at Washington ('70) where he still holds the Huskies' career field goal percentage mark (.558), the Seattle native was acquired by Denver—along with the rights to David Thompson—from Virginia for Mack Calvin, Mike Green and Jan van Breda Kolff in 1975. That pre-season, however, he suffered an injury to his left knee which curtailed his playing career after only three games as a Nugget.

Irvine—whose name rhymes with "Gervin"—is married to the former Joan Helfant. The couple has two sons: Toby, 6, and Jaime, 3.

DAVID CRAIG

Athletic Trainer/
Team Administrator

While he sits at the end of the bench, he's by no means a bench warmer. In fact, David Craig—in his 13th season as Indiana Pacer trainer—might qualify as a team MVP-of-sorts.

One of the most knowledgeable and dedicated trainers in the profession, Craig's reputation is well known by players throughout the league. In fact, several return to Indianapolis to receive treatments during the off season. He was also responsible for setting up the training facilities at Market Square Arena, considered by most observers to be among the best in the country.

In addition to his work with the Pacers, Craig is president and co-founder of Indianapolis Physical Therapy and Sports Medicine, Inc., with locations on the city's west and north sides. Craig and his staff are now able to offer treatments to high school athletes as well as Indianapolis residents in need of physical therapy.

A graduate of Purdue University (1970), Craig worked for Pinky Newell in the Boilermakers' training department.

Craig, his wife, Linda, and children Jennifer (9) and Brian (6) live in Indianapolis in a farm house which is more than 120 years old.

BOB SALYERS

Acting General Manager

Bob Salyers is in his second season as acting general manager of the Indiana Pacers.

Salyers has given considerably less time to his practice of law and has instead put much of his energy into his dual role of G.M., as well as team counsel.

The Knox, Ind., native is certainly no stranger to the Pacers' organization and its operation. The Indiana University-Indianapolis Law School graduate acted as the club's general counsel for two years prior to assuming his dual responsibilities in April, 1981.

In fact, it was Salyers' law practice (Salyers, Eiteljorg and Cracraft) that initially got him involved with the Pacers, having acted as attorney for Sam Nassi when the very successful Beverly Hills (Calif.) businessman purchased the team in 1979.

Prior to his law studies, the 36-year-old Purdue graduate earned a bachelor's degree in animal science in 1968 from the West Lafayette, Ind., school. He also is a U.S. Army veteran, having spent 13 months in Vietnam.

Salyers plans to continue in his role until the Pacers are a solid NBA franchise.

Salyers and his wife of 14 years, the former Beverly Jernas, have two children, Kyle, 8, and Krisha, 6.

DOUG McKEE

Controller

Doug McKee is in his seventh year as the Pacers' Controller. As Controller, McKee is in charge of day-to-day financial matters for the club.

Before joining the Pacers in 1976, McKee worked in public accounting for George S. Olive and Company four years, and in industrial accounting two years. He is a graduate of Ball State University ('70), with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in accounting. McKee —no relation to ex-PR Director Ed McKee—is a Certified Public Accountant.

Doug and his wife, Kathy, reside in Pittsboro, to the west of Indianapolis, with their son, Justin (6).

BOB LAMEY

Voice of the Pacers

Back for his sixth season as Indiana Pacers play-by-play announcer is WIBC's Bob Lamey. For the fourth consecutive year, the enthusiastic Lamey also will handle television games via the simulcast format for WTTV, Channel 4.

Lamey, a 27-year veteran of the radio business, got his start in 1955 at KNAL Radio while still a high school student in Victoria, Texas. While attending Victoria Junior College and Texas Christian University, Lamey continued his radio efforts with KVIC Radio.

After completing his coursework at TCU, Lamey earned a master's degree in Radio and Television at Ohio University.

Voice of the Carolina Cougars of the American Basketball Association for five seasons, Lamey also is experienced in baseball, football and hockey broadcasts. While with Carolina, he served as the Cougars' Director of Communications for one season.

Lamey, heard afternoons as WIBC's sports personality, and his wife, Bonnie, have three daughters—Becky, 17, Gayle, 14, and Sheryl, 11.

INDIANA PACERS RADIO NETWORK

The Pacers and WIBC Radio in Indianapolis (1070) will broadcast all 82 regular season games with Bob Lamey as the play-by-play voice. The Pacers are pleased to have other Indiana stations join the network. They are:

MARKET SQUARE ARENA

Market Square Arena, built by the city of Indianapolis and completed in 1974, is one of the premier sports and entertainment showplaces in the Midwest. Leased to Market Square Associates for 40 years, the building was designed by Kennedy, Brown and Associates and constructed by Huber, Hunt and Nichols, Inc.

Ground breaking ceremonies were held on Oct. 20, 1971, and on Sept. 15, 1974, the building was officially opened. The Pacers fell to San Antonio, 129-121, in double overtime in their first appearance in the building on Oct. 18, 1974.

Five nights later, Oct. 23, 1974, saw Indiana take its first victory in its "new" home as the Pacers dumped the Spirits of St. Louis, 122-107.

Market Square Arena highlights include the 1980 NCAA basketball semifinals and finals; the 1978 and 1979 NCAA basketball Mid-East Regionals; the annual Indiana state high school basketball and wrestling championships and Elvis Presley's last concert on June 26, 1977.

Last summer, MSA and the city of Indianapolis hosted the 1982 National Sports Festival's basketball and hockey finals, as well as speedskating and figure skating competition.

Site of countless of sports and spectator events including circuses, rodeos, ice shows, major concerts, tennis and hockey, MSA has a seating capacity for concerts of 18,250; the same for boxing; 17,092 for basketball and 16,000 for hockey. All the seats in the circular arena are free from posts and other obstructions of view.

The finest in dining is provided at Aisle 25 restaurant, located on the seventh level of the west side of the building. Numerous concession stands also are available.

COVER ART—For the third consecutive year, C. W. Mundy—alias "Doctor Brush" of Indianapolis, Ind.—painted this publication's cover especially for the Indiana Pacers. The original, a 28-by-42 oil painting, depicts the Pacers' Herb Williams, who blocked 178 shots and averaged 11.5 points for the Pacers as a rookie. The 6-11 frontliner, who won the Goodman Jewelers' "Hardball Player of the Year" award, also was M.V.P. in the Southern California Pro Summer League last summer.

Mundy, a 1964 graduate of Indianapolis Howe High School, played basketball for Ball State University and received his Bachelor of Science in education with an emphasis in art from BSU in 1969. Four years later, Mundy, 37, earned a Master of Arts degree from Long Beach State.

Mundy's works can be seen at Collectors Corner in Indianapolis.
